Local Methodist Goes to Indiana For Convocation

Martin G. Jack was among a group of 23 Methodist laymen who left Los Angeles International Airport by chartered jet Friday. They are the flying half of a 45-man contingent of representatives to the Third National Convocation of Methodist Men, July 14-16 at Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

Jack will be part of a conference of 6000 laymen who will spend three days learning how to be better churchmen and sharing experiences of fellowship and inspiration under the conference theme "Manpower with God's power builds the Church."

He is a member of Sigma Xi, international organization to foster basic research, the Optical Society of America, and the American Association of Physics Teachers.

READY FOR BUSINESS—Tiff's Coffee Shop, 4817 Torrance Blvd., Torrance, is marking its grand opening with a celebration Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The modern restaurant, which is open 24 hours, is owned by Kenny Divine. Divine, 11-year resident of Torrance, graduated from El Camino and studied business administration at Long Beach State. He is married and has three children, Randy, Cindy and Laurie. His wife is presently secretary for the school board.

Rug Cleaners Institute

State president of the Rug Cleaners Institute of California, Henry Fisher of San Francisco, will attend a meeting Saturday, July 22, at the plant of Spencer's Rug Cleaners in Torrance.

There will be over 100 members from all over the state attending this business meeting. New methods of cleaning and spotting of rugs and wall-to-wall cleaning will be among the many subjects discussed.

A tribute to Henry Fisher will be held at a banquet at the Plush Horse Restaurant in Redondo Saturday July 22 at 8 p.m.

Any local rug cleaners that do not belong to the Rug Cleaners Institute of California are invited to attend the business sessions at 4 p.m. July 22 at 20625 Hawthorne Blvd., Torrance.

Local Physicist Gains Position At University

Dr. Jerald R. Izatt of Torrance, research physicist for Nortronics, Inc., has been appointed to the physics faculty of New Mexico State University.

Dr. Harold Daw, head of the physics department, announced Dr. Izatt will join the faculty this fall. He will be assigned half-time duties in teaching and half-time in research in infra-red and atmospheric physics and directing P.H.D. candidates. His teaching field will be optics.

Dr. Izatt has been with Nortronics since August 20, 1960. He had previously been with Westinghouse Electric as an analyst for fire control system and later for space communication systems. Earlier he was with Douglas Aircraft Co. in digital computer programming.

A native of Idaho, he received his bachelor's degree at University of Utah and his Ph.D. at Johns Hopkins University. While at Johns Hopkins he was a research assistant in the Laboratory of Astrophysics and Physical Meteorology from 1957 to 1960.
